COME ONE, COME ALL, TO THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH!

The past four years have flashed before your eyes like so many blinding spotlights on the center ring. As a freshman you were tossed into the ring and expected to perform feats of intellectual agility. You survived the daily rigor of Masco life, carrying your trusty backpack (that weighed more than you did, soaking wet). Than, as a sophmore, jumping through hoops and walking tight ropes seemed to become a little less life threatening and a little more routine.

BUT WAIT, THERE'S MORE!

As a junior you entered the "most important year of your high school career!" They started lighting hoops on fire, and you began to take off the masks and costumes you wore. You moved beyond being just the clown you were to the lion tamers and the trapeze artists you are now.

LAST BUT NOW LEAST, THE MOMENT YOU HAVE ALL BEEN WAITING FOR. FEATURED IN THE CENTER RING.... THE SENIORS!

It's the last of the "best years of your life". You've experienced the balancing acts and the juggling, you've een everything from the elephant poop picker-upper to the kid on the tight rope high up in the roof of the tent. You've also noticed and come to appreciate the crowd behind you, always cheering you on to excel. Now, the people have come and gone and the circus is ready to leave town and move on to it's next venture.

THROUGH THIS HECTIC PERIOD IN TIME, YOU HAVE PLAYED MANY PARTS. YOU'VE ALSO LEARNED, VOLUNTARILY OR INVOLUNTARILY, THAT YOU ARE NOW THE RING MASTER....AND THE THREE RINGS ARE ALL YOURS.

3 2126 00143 446 8

Dedication: Ms. Susan Haas

The atmosphere in K101 is one tinted with developer and scattered with pieces of black and white. Along the walls, shrink wrapped works of art crowd each other. As the water runs continuously, the music of Run DMC plays on the old clock radio with the broken bass. The warning bulb burns outside of the darkroom, marking the existence of photographers battling the enlargers within. They emerge with the familiar "just-out-of-the-darkroom" squint. Amidst the comfortable clutter, a medium height, slim figure travels about the room. The figure is known as, "Ms. Haas, could you please come here for a second?" Whether it's a film reeling black bag problem or a tribe of dust bunnies camping out on a print, it is always Ms. Haas to the rescue.

Her devotion, sense of humor and inviting personality lead many into the realm of photo, whether they are enrolled in a class or just passing through. In addition to her extraordinary personality, she is a distinguished artist and photographer among her colleagues. She has also greatly contributed to the art department over the ten years that she has been teaching at Masco. She upgraded the elective version of photo into a full range of courses from beginner to advanced. Like many teachers, her day does not stop at 2:14, her extra curricular activities include the Gay-Straight Alliance and her Title IX position.

The senior class would like to thank the teacher that we feel has effected us the most. She is a teacher who has reached out to us and showed us something new. This year Susan Haas receives the honor of our 1998 MiToBo Dedication. She has helped make the last four years some of the greatest in our lives and we appreciate it very much.

Always a place to turn to,
You made us smile,
We'll miss you,
We love you,
Ms. Haas.

"You can shoot from ground level to give the perspective of a dachshund, or crouch on the sidewalk to give us a nasal passage view, or hang from a light pole for a birds eye view. Consider what point of view conveys about the human subjects. Do not hang from light poles."
-Ms.Haas.

"FIVE DAYS OF PERMORMANCES!
IN THE CIRCUS MAXIMUS!
FREE, TO ALL AND EVERYONE
500 - FIERCE NUMIDIAN LIONS - 500!
20 - PONDEROUS PACHYDERMS - 20!"

"Performances To Be Interspersed With Chariot Racing, Plus Equestrian and Acrobatic Feats of Great Daring and Dexerity!"

-Cneius Ponpeius Magnus, B.C. 61.

FACULTY

Upon entering the tent at first, the lions, elephants and horses are crazy. Wildness- induced by hormones, all kinds of chemical imbalances and just plain immaturity. That's when the circus brings in trainers to redirect some of that nervous energy and help the students... I mean, wild animals, to become more tame in their new circus environment. Hats off and a world of thanks to these trainers, teachers and tamers that spend so much time helping the wild animals learn how to survive. Now they know what to do when they enter the center ring, under the lights and into the world.

FRESHMEN

Welcome to the Masconomet circus.... where everything changes and it's never quite what it seems. This year you will grow from the junior high monkey you once were and attain the role (not necessarily the respect) of picking up after the elephants. It's not glamorous but everyone has to go through it once, and yes, it builds character. Sweeping up popcorn believe it or not is an experience that you will look back on and use in your future (almost like geometry). These jobs make you practice your tight rope act even harder, in hopes of being accepted as a working member of the show in the years to come.

SOPHOMORES

Now that you're in the swing of things... (it's a tight rope joke...laugh now) After perfecting your high wire act you are now able to show it off in project adventure. You stand on the high-wire in the spotlight and you hope that the spotter doesn't forget you. Project adventure, though a highlight, is not the only adventure you'll have this year. You carry your tight rope act to other aspects of your life as well, balancing work with your new found circus friends.

Sophomore Survey

Do you feel overshadowed by the class of '99?

"No. There's too many people in that class who are superficial and materialistic. I won't waste my time on them." - anonymous

"I don't even know what that means." - anonymous

"No, we have a better, more athletic class and we are not conceited." - Jill Cahill

What's your name?

(We received some very creative names from the Sophomore class - we just thought we'd share them.)

- * Wouldn't you like to know...
- * Bond, James Bond.
- * It's a survey, stupid. No name.

If your class had a motto, what would it be?

"You're darned if you do, and darned if you don't."

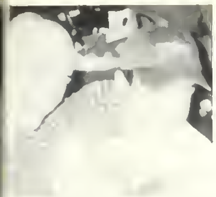
- anonymous

"The few, the proud, the kids who can't drive."

- Josh Kanter

" I love Webster."

- anonymous



What does the word S'more mean to you?

"A toaster thing with graham crackers, chocolate and marshmallows... also a waste of time between ninth and eleventh grade." - anonymous

The upperclassmen are immature."
- Crissy Robinson

"A fireside food that melts and if you throw it, it makes a big mess." - Amanda Ragalevski

After making many mistakes and falling off the tight rope a few times, you've learned how to conduct yourself in the center ring. This year is the time when you are looking to yourself more than the crowd to motivate your act. This year (believe it or not) really is the most important year of your high school career. You are almost a ring master and are preparing for the privilege and the responsibility that comes with the territory.

SENIORS

So... now that you are almost at the top of the heap, you have gained tons of experience. You have cleaned up after the elephants, practiced and performed your act, and now you are finally on your way to being the Ring Master in a carnival of your own. The circus you leave behind will surely miss you, but hopefully after your experiences here, you are bound to be a success. In your circus you will need to find your own performers and create a new show unique to yourself. Are you up for the challenge?

A Drop A Pebble in the Water

Drop a pebble in the water: just a splash, & it is gone; But there's half-a-hundred ripples circling on & on, spreading from the center, flowing on out to the sea. And there is no way of telling where the end is going to be...

Sometimes

Sometimes she is a road,
At the end, light.
Sometimes she is a field
On which we fight.

She is all we have.

She smiles.

"One not only has to be very gifted in music but very intelligent, responsible. You have to have a lot of drive. You have to be very self critical, and that's difficult because in order to perform you have to be extremely self-confident. It's a tricky balance. Not many people have been able to cope with the problem successfully. You have to know your own mind and at the same time absorb incredible criticism from others. You have to be cynical and shrewd and still capable of being profoundly moved by the joy and beauty in music. It's walking a high wire, and onstage there's no net." - Alan Weiss

I just want to take the chance to send a special thanks to a few people who made my high school years not so unbearable.Pat, you've been such a devoted and caring friend, who has always been there to listen to my endless complaints, worries, and crude remarks.I know there will be many more trips to Wild Harvest, Bowling, days sitting on the hot driveway, and Erin and I jumping around on your furniture.Brianne, you have made me laugh endlessly, and have been a great friend. You brought out a side in me that I didn't know quite existed.Have you made any additions to the menu for Bertha's?Don't forget macho man, dry eyes, or our capacity to talk about the same thing over and over again.Andrea, I am so glad I have had the pleasure of being your teammate and friend over these four long years. You 're one of the sweetest people I know.Erin, we must have been separated at birth.Thanks for all the fun and for also contributing in bringing out the side in me I didn't know existed.Never stop "baking", but don't eat too many "cookies."Megan we've had a lot of fun, and you will always be my #1 running partner.Long live Bert's and the silverbullet.Steve, you will always mean so much to me, thanks for the wonderful times.I 'd also like to thank Mr. Delani for his encouragement, advice, and time. And to Mr. Donavel for opening up my mind and teaching what really counts.Thank you also to Mr. Casey for being such a dedicated coach to me and all his bunnies.Last, but not least I 'd like to thank my entire family, especially Mum, Dad, Michelle, and Greg.I love you all.Goodluck to everyone.

Love,

Life is like a journey.
We may be walking along a path with friends and then come upon a crossroad where we each must choose the road that is right for each of us individually.
At times we may find ourselves walking a path alone, but somewhere along the road we find new friends to walk with, friends to love, friends to grow with, friends to share with.
The path of life has many crossroads, and at each one it's difficult to say good-bye and go our own separate ways, choosing the direction that is right for each of us.
But the memory of being together will always remain, and there is always the chance that our paths will cross again.

"Where are you going? Where are you going? Can you take me with you? For my hand is cold and needs warmth. Where are you going? Far beyond where the horizon lies, where the horizon lies, And the land sinks into mellow blueness, Oh please take me with you. Let me skip the road with you, I can dare myself, I can dare myself. I'll put a pebble in my shoe and watch me walk, I can walk, I can walk. I shall call the pebble Dare. We will talk about walking. Dare shall be carried and when we both have had enough, I shall take him from my shoe, singing, 'Meet your new road.' Then I'll take your hand. Finally glad, that you are here, By my side." -By My Side, Godspell.

IT'S OVER!!!

We made it finally. I can't really say that I will miss Masco but I will. It's all been like one horrible nightmare that had the occasional good moment that makes you want to stay in the dream just so you can find out what will happen, even though most of it is horrific. Thanks to all the teachers that have put up with me for all this time. (I couldn't do it). Someday all the computers will work Mr. Czar. Mr. Brown I will never forget your anti-stress kit. Mr. West I told you that you'd convert to a PC someday. Mr. Doliber I passed gym (so we hope). Thanks to Wally the worlds best boss and funniest dirty old man ever. Chris and Alex one question can we warp each other any more? To all the kids who hang in the music office, you have made the whole experience even more frightening yet entertaining than ever thought possible. Joy what would I have done without you? I Love You. Well yet again the brain has shut off (a side effect of Masco), so now I shall bid a happy adios to everyone and to Masco. Bye All.

Christopher A. Himmel

When, in disgrace with fortune and men's eyes,
I all alone beweep my outcast state,
And trouble deaf heaven with my bootless cries,
And look upon myself, and curse my fate,
Wishing me like to one more rich in hope,
Featured like him, like him with friends possest,
Desiring this man's art, and that man's scope,
With what I most enjoy contented least;
Yet in these thoughts myself almost despising,
Haply I think on thee,-and then my state,
Like to the lark at break of day arising
From sullen earth, sings hymns at heaven's gate;
For thy sweet love remember'd such wealth brings,
That then I scorn to change my state with kings
-William Shakespeare: Sonnet 29

Alex: You've been a good friend for our entire Masco career, don't give up. Keep the faith.
Josh: We've had a lot of interesting adventures
Let's hope some of them never repeat them-selves
Missy and Tracey: Thanks for being there and not forgetting about me.
Lauren, Kelly, and Tara: Thanks for caring, an managing to put up with me.
Mr. O'Keefe, Mr. Thomson, Dave, and Russ:
Thanks for all your help
Erin: Thanks for making life so interesting and keeping me on my toes. I only wish I had an accent.

There must have been a time when you entered a room and met someone and after a while you understood that unknown to either of you there was a reason you had met. By some word or deed or just by your presence the errand had been completed. Then perhaps you were a little bewildered or humbled and grateful. And it was over.

Each lifetime is the pieces of a jigsaw puzzle.
For some there are more pieces.
For others the puzzle is more difficult to assemble.

And so it goes.
Souls going this way and that Trying to assemble the many parts

But know this. No one has within themselves
All the pieces to their puzzle.

Everyone carries with them at least one and probably
Many pieces to someone else's puzzle
Sometimes they know it.
Sometimes they don't.

And when you present your piece
To another, whether you know it or not,
Whether they know it or not,
You are a messenger from the Most High.

What I have to say I want to say to everybody. Even to those in my class who I've probably never said a word to during my four years at Masco. That is that everybody needs hope to keep on living. Without hope our lives have no meaning. I know that I've found the greatest hope of all, and that hope is in Jesus Christ. Jesus is more than a cuss word or a somebody you remember on Sunday mornings. No he's more than that. Jesus is a friend who loves you so much he gave his life for you. Yet better than that he rose from the dead and he desires to know you and me and give us hope. You can talk and meet with Jesus daily. Jesus said, "Come to me all you who are weary and burdened, and I will give you rest." There is rest when we come to Jesus.

If you don't believe what I'm writing now, I pray you'll remember it later, because when the going gets tuff and there no longer seems to be any hope, if you'll just call on the name of Jesus with all of your heart, he will give you hope and life. Yet even greater than that he'll love you. More than you could have ever imagined.

In 4 years of High School I Learned that...

If your life is free of failures, you're probably not taking enough risks Mr Brown digresses I will never understand Existentialism You never really know your friends until you take a vacation with them "Caller ID" deserves to be among the planet's greatest abdominations Envy is the enemy of happiness Never put KB, AH, JS, and GL in a car together at a poster party The best way to appreciate someone is to be without them for a while Never underestimate the power of Thespianship Don't settle on mediocrity There's never a snow day on the day I have a big test When Mr West calls "Circle!", don't confuse him by sitting in a star formation Fetal pigs are an endangered species Mr Delani is secretly Irish Never, ever get in a car with Dick after just having lost the State FPS Bowl for the first time in 15 years You should fill your life with experiences, not excuses I still have a lot to learn

I believe a leaf of grass is no less than the journey work of the stars,
And the pismire is equally perfect, and a grain of sand, and the egg of the wren,
And the tree-toad is a chef-doeuvre for the highest,
And the running blackberry would adorn the parlors of heaven,
And the narrowest hinge in my hand puts to scorn all machinery,
And the cow crunching with depressed head surpasses any statue,
And a mouse is miracle enough to stagger sextillions of infidels,
And I could come every afternoon of my life to look at the farmer's girl boiling her iron tea-kettle and baking short-cake.

One may ponder,
how are good friends like Aerobie?
But there is no wonder that the same they must be.
They accompany you wherever you go,
climb trees, and play in the snow.
Both are well-rounded and bright can often get lost in the night.
But the best thing about them both:
no matter how far they may roam,
if they are true,
they will find their way home.

Class of 1998, we've graduated. I don't plan to say anything historic in my senior square, and definitely not something I believe will change the world, I'm just trying to wrap up the past four years of my life, my wonderful high school experience, a fraction of my life I will not soon forget. "I have never let my schooling interfere with my education." M. Twain. Kids, you never stop learning. Life is something to be lived. Actually, come to think of it, it's kinda like a nacho. You can jump to it and eat it when it's yummy-crunchy, or don't bother and you'll be stuck with the squishy-yucky nacho part of life. It's your choice. And by the way, attitude really is everything. That's all folks. This is Erica Nelson signing off. Thank you, and good night.

"For there is no friend like a sister in calm or stormy weather." To The #1 Princess: I love you a lot! Thanks for your guidance, both silent and spoken. Mama Bear and Papa Bear: I love you so much. Thank you for all the opportunities and support you've given me. They haven't gone unnoticed. EJN.

I have the world-this is the end....Kidding! So what your saying is that I have to say everything in this little square? Well, here goes. Thanks guys for puttin''' me through some of the best and worst times in my life, (at least as much as I've lived of it) and I'll never forget you for it. Dave, Thanks for being my partner in crime I love ya, but I'm not gonna hug ya. Candace, "sing songs that remind you of the good times..and the best times." (Chumba Wumba) preferably Royal Crown ones. Erin, your destine for a stream. "don't forget to fly." (Sugar Ray) BMT, Big time radio fun.. Thanks for being home away from home. (It's like having 40 dysfunctional siblings..It's great!) "The place where everyone knows your name." (Cheers) Ms. Hess, I guess every time I see a picture I'll think of you. "Did I ever tell you your my hero?" (Midler) Mr. Pearsall, You kicked my butt through Graphic design and showed me bigger isn't all that scary. Josh, There are a lot of unsolved mysteries, don't ever change for anyone. You "can't be beat." (Skapone) Mom and Dad, I'm not dead so I guess your doing your job. You've given me everything, and you've been behind me all the way. WM, In some countries scripts are registered as deadly weapons. LM, Non-Violent Ninja Association, I'm a charter member. Stay on the wild side of the mountain, girl. All you guys who graduated on me (WD,MP,ET,JS,KV,KR,GC) and all you guys that go to schools that aren't Menlo (MJ,CK) thanks to you too. If I forgot you...I am so sorry! But I only have a 2 1/2 x 5 1/2 inch space to do this in. But regardless it's been a great few years and now we are on to something brand spankin' new. Yhay! Now this is way to sickeningly sweet so... I guess that's about all I have to say about that. "You and I will meet again, when we're least expecting it" (Tom Petty)

"Life is about who you love and who you hurt. It's about how you feel about yourself. It's about trust, happiness and compassion. It's about sticking up for your friends and replacing inner hate with love. Life is about avoiding jealousy, overcoming ignorance and building confidence. It's about what you say and what you mean. It's about seeing people for who they are and not what they have. Most of all, it is about choosing to use your life to touch someone else's in a way that could never have been achieved otherwise. These choices are what life's about."

My mom wrote about love + hate, my dad wrote about cars, and my brother wrote about Seinfeld. I just want to say, when all those teachers told me to spit out my gum, I didn't, I just hid it under my toung
Thanks to all my friend's (you know who you are), who made class fun. Demerits were a joke, math class was a bore, and the bathrooms were interesting. If I had only one wish to make, I would want all of Superman's powers; except for his great hearing. Bye!!!

I would like to thank all the people who made the last four years worthwhile, but the partial list I could cram into this tiny space wouldn't even begin to cover it. All that really matters is that those people know that I love them and that I will always remember and appreciate the incredible ways in which they enriched my life. It is these people to whom I dedicate my senior square. With much love and thanks, Tara

How does one say good-bye to those who I have shared some twelve years of my life with? It is impossible to understand that I will not see most of you again. Although my years at this institution of education have not been as favorable as I had hoped, I did manage to have fun. First and foremost I would like to thank my family, in all it's shapes and forms. I would also like to thank Ms. Haas, Sr. Martinez and Sr. Pierce for making learning interesting. The following is a list of all the others which are important to me: the circle, all of my friends (you know who you are), the dynamic duo (all the scandal you can handle), the Hamilton crew, the bullet, space odyssey 2010, big joe, Samael and all of the Masters of the Black Arts, and Anton LaVey (for giving me hope in a hopeless society). I know that this year has been a year of change for me, but I feel that it has been a change for the best. I would now like to give my praise to those traveling down the BLACKENED path, good luck with your travels. Thanks, and good-bye.

Just remember; your permission is DENIED by Mother H I'm gonna miss our traditional vacation trips. Save a few weekends a year to go skiing together (same for you RD Chich). Chich: Driver Ed + on the road were fun. Going into Boston was a trip + a half. I'm glad you started com to Loon too. Those puzzle packets get easier every year- especially when we cheat! Then there was the surpr party. Gotta do that again! :) RD: Loon's great, but one thing; DON'T GET LOST NEXT TIME! The Bahama's v a blast. scaring someone w/ Taz made it even better. Do you want your hair braided? The Deutschland countdo was fun, but I'm afraid Marco. drowned in the floods after all. GP: K.L.A.G. next time we're at your house, ma sure you look in the back yard :). Math class was fun w/ you + LC. I hope we get to go to Germany + Italy toget one day. KC: K.L.A.G. watch out! There's a snake in the pool! I had a lot of fun hanging out. LTM: your b-c parties were a lot of fun. The Bahama's were better; tuck- ins (Can bus boys tuck you in? No? Well, I guess Twe will do) Feb. at Loon was fun. I'll miss that when we're in college. EH: 9th grade Science fair. We did a great j we got a free calcs. didn't we? SW: Driver Ed was easy + fun. Homeroom was fun too. The teachers we had w all unique. JW: Your b-day party was fun; even though it took me three times to find your house!!! I love your do Homeroom for the last 4 years was fun. KG: You're Halloween parties were fun, even if they weren't alw around Halloween. Ryan D: don't give up on the piccolo yet. So what if it hurts your ears! It's fun to play + you good at it too! (Stars + Stripes) Mrs. B: Thanx for the Bagels! Katie: You have been my best friend since 9th gra When you moved, it was tough, but staying in touch helped. I can't wait until Maine!! We'll always have waiverunners! I miss you! Finally, Mom + Dad: I know I wasn't easy to put up with, but you drove me nuts too. none of that matters now. Thank-you for everything. I love you.

So, highschool's finally over and we're supposed to sum up the whole experience in one three inch by five inch square? Well, it can't be done. I won't even try to fit in all the great times we had or list all the names of those I've known along the way. I'd ust like to thank all those people who have helped me make it this far, you know who you are, and I'll leave you with a quote from a book I once read by Benjamin Hoff, "I am me, and you are you, as you can see; but when you do the things that you can do, you will find the way, and the way will follow you." "There are those who pass like ships in the night.
Who meet for a moment, then sail out of sight folks we know briefly then quickly forget.

Then there are friends who sail together

An underclassman leaves the music office at 7:30 a.m. running at the speed of light (not realizing they are no longer in the Jr. High). They are carrying a L.L. Bean backpack that weighs 200 lbs. containing English, science, and Spanish books, three five-star notebooks, and a big fat trapperkeeper. The underclassman is also carrying a wallet attached to a four foot long chain, which we will define as 'i'. Their homeroom is in upper B-wing. A sophisticated Senior, walking at .5 mi/hr, carrying one book for the one class they take, saunters in from their designated parking spot through the emergency door at 7:29 a.m. When will the underclassman smash into the Senior and how many books will the underclassman drop?

"What Senior is in school by 7:29 a.m.?"
- Kathy Turner

"The Senior would stop in Senor Cavallero's room for donuts thus avoiding all underclassmen." - anonymous

"Because of our immense buffness we would crush the underclassman at exactly 7:29:57 right outside Mr. Lowe's room." - Don Smoot and Tim Roden

Powder Puff

As usual the seniors won! The senior girls built their team spirit prior to the game when they got their team t-shirts. Seniority is a plus, but practice pays off when it comes to powder puff. The junior girls put in a valiant effort and all should watch as they come to victory next year. Go Seniors!

Senior Halloween Party

Costumes are an important aspect of any circus. Fortunately, are also an important part of Halloween. Come to think of hey represent the side shows more than the actual circus. uls, Goblins, and the Cullinan's Mailbox all had a chance to e out and get into the act.

The Holiday Party

The Senior Holiday Party was a rockin' success. The food wasn't bad and the dancing was good. We were even honored by the appearance of a candy-cane-givin' Santa. (A.K.A. Bryan Faulkner). Besides everyone knows that their high school education wouldn't be complete without the experience of line dancing with Ms. Bryant.

Saint Valentine's Day Party

Yet another rockin' senior event. Everyone came dressed...well... differently and danced the night away with the "Jamin" D.J. The dance ontest winners paraded around in their newly aquired sunglasses, while rs of flashing lights and bubbles accompanied the loud music. All of this provided the perfect atmosphere. Not your typical Valentine's Day with roses and candle light...but for the seniors, this was just as good.

Frolics is Fun

Despite late nights, sitting like refugees in the hall, missed deadlines an not having a big enough auditorium to seat the sold out audience, Frolics a smashing success. It had everything: messy food, spit, lots of laughs a the usual, unusual teacher impressions.

"Remember Me This Way"

The Junior/ Senior Prom

May 16, 1997

What a fiasco! We have a half day and ever student rushes home with great expectations and pu on their respective monkey suit or dress. Next they hop into a limo or car and pick up their date (or not and prepare to paint the Danversport Yacht Club red (and white). It's all the process of being a part of the performance we call the prom.

Remember Me This Way

Every now and then we find a special friend who never lets us down who understands it all reaches out each time we fall
You're the best friend that I've found I know you can't stay but part of you will never ever go away You're heart will stay
I'll make a wish for you and hope it will come true
That life will just be kind to such a gentle mind
If you lose your way think back on yesterday
Remember me this way
I don't need eyes to see the love you bring to me
no matter where I go
And I know that you'll be there
Forevermore a part of me you're everywhere
I'll always care and I'll be right behind your shoulder watching you
I'll be standing by your side in all you do
And I won't ever leave as long as you believe
You just believe
Remember Me This Way

REMEMBER ME THIS WAY

SIDE SHOWS YOU WON'T WANT TO MISS!
CLUBS

After the show is done for the day and the crowds have gone home, all the clowns and acrobats come back to the ring to truly express themselves. In after school activities everyone is a juggler balancing day and evening performances. This balancing act is what the high school circus is all about.

YEARBOOK

As a staff we spent an excessive amount of time together; some times more pleasant than others. We had a mysterious field trip to the Fleet Center to see Ariana, the flying disappointment, and binged on expensive popcorn- all in the name of research. Thematically speaking, keeping the book's concept a secret was a circus in and of itself. But even that was calm when compared to the caffeine-driven night meetings. We are all proud of what we accomplished. Good luck to Meghan, Heather and the rest of next year's staff. Now on to bigger Big Tops.

"Moira, did you take my cropper?"
"No, Ms. Pearsall, I don't want to hear another story from your childhood."
"Grant, I'm still not in a candid."
"Kristin, HELP!".... "No, not the flipbook."
It's been a long, deadline-laden trip, but that's what MITOBO is all about. We hope as you read this book, it will all be worth while.

France

After three weeks of hosting French students in their homes (and bathrooms and kitchens,) Masco students finally went to stay with their exchange students in France. They took an early flight to Paris and dove into Parisian culture for three days before meeting their families in Rennes. After that, they checked out the Eiffel tower, traveled on the Seine and danced the night away at the Discotheque (Boom Cha...) After two and a half weeks of eating enough pastry to feed the entire country, the students discovered that they really could speak French. Surely this is a trip that they will never forget... and neither will their stomachs.

Germany

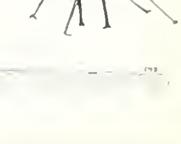
Where did all the German students go? Germany! After three weeks of foreigners in America it was Masco's turn to run wild in Germany. It's been said that early summer is the best time to see Germany- not too hot, not too cold. It's an excellent time to take in the sights. In addition to the beautiful scenery, the Americans saw many famous castles and churches. (Not to mention basement pools... but that wasn't on the itinerary.) They visited Dachau, which was a solemn but meaningful pilgrimage. They also had the opportunity to attend classes and fine tune their German speaking skills. Upon their arrival back home it was agreed that a fun time was had by all.

Italy

It's a long flight to Italy... (10 hours in fact). It's all worth while though, when you run into your first "scanty" Italian man, or take your first drive to the catacombs with Fabrizio. The most common phrase is "Due billeti per favor" (two tickets please) as you walk into a Roman opera. It's also customary to walk around with gellati all over your face; it's sinfully good. Like shooting stars in Venice, these times may fade, but will never be forgotten.

Spain

In April 1998, the Masco Spanish students arrived in Guadamar and proceeded to stay there for three weeks. During their stay they had the opportunity to experience the Spanish life: dining, sight-seeing, and attending school. The school just happened to be directly across the street from a beautiful Mediterranean beach. (How convenient...) While learning the finer points of Español with their host families, the exchange students lived an experience they'll never forget, especially the beach!



"Jesus you just won't believe the hit you've made around here..." Every aspect of this year's fall musical was breathtaking. The evil, forbearing Pilate and the chilling cruelty of Hitler were contrasted by the adoration of Mary. The anguish and guilt Judas experienced during his conflict with Jesus was portrayed by a group of dancers: the Tormentors. The Apostles maintained their devotion to the end, while the rest of the crowd turns from the adoration of "Hey J.C., J.C. won't you smile at me?" to the angry cries of "Crucify him!" A field trip to the Holocaust center in Peabody and the Holocaust Memorial in Boston granted the knowledge to develop more realistic characters.

The Jesus Christ Superstar pit band was superb, accomplishing the near impossible. The stage crew, did a fabulous job, as usual, providing the high caliber stage effects Masconomet audiences have come to expect.

David's Mother

A talented group of actors faced an enormous challenge. The story of David's Mother takes the audience through a full spectrum of emotions as it depicts a mother's struggl with her mentally retarded son. Tyler Garfield's realistic portrayal of David, and Danielle Mindess' bitter sarcasm in the role of Sally were a perfect combination. This play brought some of the most heart-wrenching moments to ever be performed on the Masco Stage.

You are an agile trapeze artist and have attained a delicate balance between scholastics and athletics. Your season has been filled with a wide-eyed enthusiasm-you ran until it hurt, sat on the sidelines, and ate your fair share of pasta. Although you may have faltered at times your focus remained on what lay ahead... the applause. Take a bow.

CHEERLEADING

The Cheerleaders had another successful season with the arrival of new uniforms and Masco's first appearance at the State Competition. Slush Puppies, donkeys, and the CAL's only male cheerleader, kept the cheerleaders' enthusiasm high, even at the coldest games. One word to describe this season: "Mascocheerinrulz!"

BOY'S SOCCER

At times it seems like you might be running more than the cross country team, but it is worth while when you go to a pasta party the night before a big game, get psyched, sleep tight, come in the next day, and beat the pants off the other team (well, not literally).

Way to kick it in there boys!

BOYS' X COUNTRY

Everyday the boys pound down the roads and around the school with their running shoes tied tightly to their feet. FIELD HOCKEY

This team had a good season which could be attributed to the many hours of "flicks" against the fence, all the running or perhaps the time spent watching Billy Madison. (Surely a great inspiration to the entire team.) But maybe, just maybe, the reason they did so well is the comradery of the team. Or it could just be that hard work made them really good...who knows?

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Shooting doesn't always have to do with guns, unless you want to call the girl's basketball team the big guns of Masconomet. Girl's Basketball is one of the most successful teams here at Masco, but they don't just go out there and play expecting to win. These girls practice long, hard hours to achieve what they have become.

GYMNASTICS

You have to give these people credit- they do flips and cartwheels on a piece of wood 4 inches wide. The gymnasts and acrobats of the Masco circus make up one of the smallest teams in the tent, but they are by no means silent. The team members ended with a sucessful season full of talent, grace, and skill. Cheers to the original Masco circus members.

ICE HOCKEY

It's kind of like swimming, except the water is frozen, you wear skates, and you hit a piece of rubber around with a stick. If that piece of rubber hits you it hurts, so thank god for all that padding. The boys did a great job this year. Let's see what happens when they lose the majority of the flying LeColst family.

GIRLS' SKI TEAM

Despite the lack of snow this year, the girl's team managed to shoosh their way down the hill, ending their season having placed second in the state. They deserve a lot of credit due to the fact that they practice in the wee hours of the night, in the freezing cold, with two pieces of fiberglass waxed up and strapped to their feet.

BOY'S SKI TEAM

The boy's ski team certainly didn't snowplow down the hills this year. Rather, they seemed to fly down the hill, though on skis as opposed to wings (being the ski team and all). They finished off the year with a strong record.

Yeah Boys!

SWIM TEAM

SPLASH! Like a small school of fish, the Masconomet swim team hits the the chlorinated water. They glide through the pool like dolphins in the Pacific, making the swim the most graceful of the circus performances. All they ever ask for is a clean pool and decent practice hours.. We hope they got at least one of their wishes.

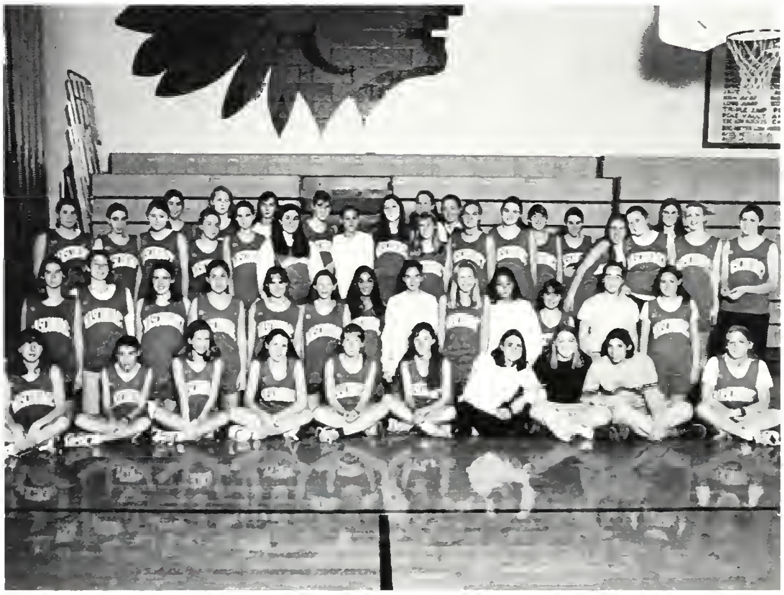
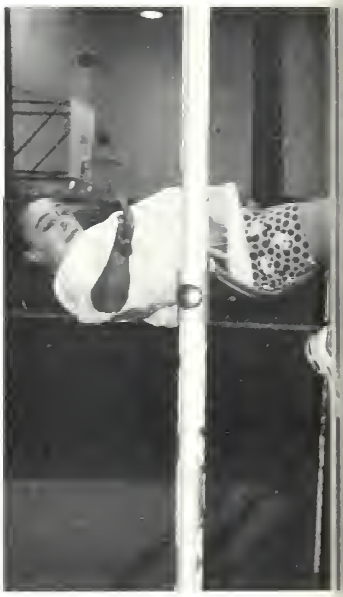
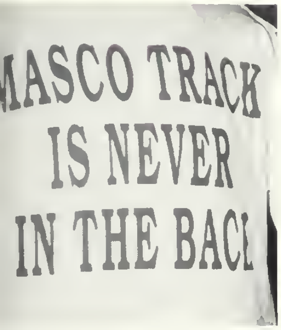
GIRLS TRACK

If you hear the trampling of feet in the hall, get out of the way 'cause it's the GIT team coming through. You could find this team on the roads with Serino, hurling shotputs in the fieldhouse, bolting down hallways; almost anywhere but the track. Even though they had to run through the rain, sleet and snow in the early hours of the morning and even on Saturdays, the track team still went undefeated.







What do you yell as you run around the halls?

BOY'S TRACK

They blast around the halls of Masco with their shoes tied tight. The boys track team had a good year as they successfully raced against other Cape Ann League teams. Hurdling, pounding the roads, and running around in a cirle twenty-two times is all part of the thrill of the sport.

WRESTLING

They wear those things on their heads, (What are they called?) and are always throwing people around. Sound tough? We think so. In fact, it is a well known that circus wrestlers are always throwing people around. In the world outside of Masco (a.k.a. reality) we call them bouncers. They are the much needed muscle of the circus.

WINTER CHEERLEADING

The cheerleaders stand high up on the bleachers, clap and cheer, and do what basically is their job-keeping morale up so the team will win. They practice in interesting places, like the J.H. science lecture area and right smack-dab in the middle of the hall. It is all worth while in the end when they receive the reward of a winning game.

The rowdier half of Media Communications focused on bringing new life to Masco's literary magazine, Silent Voices. The book represents the hidden talents of Masco's students. Both a book and a website were produced and showcased at Masco's Coffee Haus. Through our late night follies and creative diversions from work...we somehow managed to pull it off.

In years of search of mature perch
Eyes fall to the dust with doubt
But upon glancing down revelation profound
A treat one can't live without.
To see a flower
and call it love
yet know it beyond voice
The mind empower view from above
comparison; subtle choice.
A humble path
a cleansing laugh
at the boundary minded scoff yet love them real divisions repeal thanks to the metaphor's quaff.
That so successful a solution society denies retribution is irony in every possible sense the same ironic juice that has set me loose to look down from above the fence
To revert back evolution's track
quickening enlightened progression
We all must hope will be the dope
that forgets us our mind's transgression.
But if it ain't it shall be quaint to know that I had tried to kill misconception
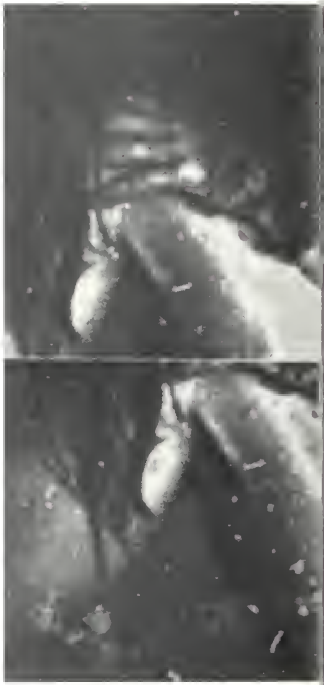
the freedom of perception
the truth we've tried to hide.



e can never, or should never be told to use any innate qualities.
r it is like asking you to laugh, to blink, or to go to the bathroom even.
completely uncomfortable as it is not to, you just can't bring yourself to remember how to do it.

er been tickled, not bottom of the foot, nape of the neck kind of tickled.
ut just hit your funny bone on the armrest of the car kind of tickled.
ke your insides are just one big ball of electrically charged nerve endings.
's that kind of permanent-smile kind of tickled.
here the simple word hello can send you reeling into a bazillion images of the picture of happiness.

ke as the milk of the Cheerios bowl in yesterday's flier
r the orange tinted complexion of a New Englander in February.
ke as the response smile triggered by the word "cheese" or a smiley faced alligator puppet.
ot wrong but definitely not right.
ke as the words that linger between two who share only blueberrypie filled table talk.
onversations of homework and the test last period.
he words that flow forth are as foreign and monotone in meaning as the tape recordings prompted y cherry red buttons labeled "push to start" in Naval museums t's like searching the radio stations for something and catching the last few verses.

Chicken Little

Screaming at the sky Thinking it can bear
the pain of all the injustices done to me
It's you I'm feeling-taking over my beingexploding from the nearest opening

As my harsh words
shoot upwards,
I am unaware that there are sad ears floating by on each cloud
As I grow careless with my tongue,
I suddenly remember Chicken Little-and the tears drip into my mouth delaying the next angry outburst...
if only for a moment

Once time had passed, the sun turns in relieved of my fury for the time being Hoarse, and knowing I could never scream at the moon,
I turn and go home

I try to leave my hate on the sidewalk
but it follows me like a parasite
My back is wet with angels' tears and the moon looks on with sorrow
as I trudge home, undeserving
of the little comfort it offers me

At home in bed,
the rain leaks
into my dreams
This unsettles me terribly, this recourse of the evening's events and an uneasiness that wasn't there before seeks refuge in the thoughts forming in my mouth that belong to you

Tomorrow, the sunny sky will return for me to shatter
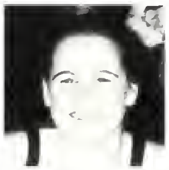
But for now,
I'll re-read Chicken Little

THANK-YOU SR. PIERCE!

Thank You Senor Pierce

Oh Brother! This has been a long four years. It would have been even longer without the help of Mr.Pierce. He isn't just a Spanish teacher; he has also been our class advisor. Without him our class would have never had any dances, never had a prom, never had any money and most of all, we would never have seen each other. Through the stress of frolics, graduation and numerous other occasions, Senor Pierce has helped us come together. He has guided the class of 1998's officers towards making the past four years more enjoyable. So...for all these reasons (plus a million more) the class of 1998 would like to say a big "Thank You" for all Senor Pierce's hard work and for helping us gain more. Not just as a random group of students, but as the class of 1998. Gracias Senor!



"I couldn't have made it through the last 4 years without him-I know I'm going to miss him!" -Meghan Cotter

"Thanks for all the hard work and aggravation you put up with for our class!" -Maria Mortalo

"The fun and relaxed atmosphere of the class makes learning enjoyable." -Pat Mahoney

"He's the best homeroom teacher I ever had!" -Dave DiPaolo

"Senor's at his best when he's on the dance floor!" -Diane Palenscar

THE CROWDS DEPART "GOOD NIGHT, GOOD BYE."
